

MOELFRE SEAWATCH CENTRE ANGLESEY

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

TACP Architects have recently completed a Feasibility Study to investigate the potential of developing the Seawatch Centre in Moelfre. The study took on board the concerns and requirements of local groups and of the local authority that would be taking on responsibility for the operation and management of the facility. The study looked at the opportunities for developing the centre to incorporate a contemporary interpretation that describes the unique harmony between the local people and the natural beauty of the environment.
